Norma and Jerry were our friends for many years here in Pensacola, where we joined All Saints Church Parish at the same time. They were a precious couple and wow could Norma bake. I have that one special recipe I couldn't live without! They talked about their sons OFTEN and we knew they loved you very much. We were sorry when they moved to Clearwater, but knew they'd be near their boys. We were in touch some, but not enough. They made many good memories with us and our church family. May they rest in life eternal.

Kerry and family, Norma's legacy lives on through the love and care you have shown both your parents these past several months. Even if memories fade over the years to come, you will always carry them with you in your character and your soul. Who you are is a great testament to who they were, and I consider us all at CFP to be very lucky to know them in some small way through you.
