Mary Jane Trebino

JAN 29, 1946 - DEC 31, 2014

Mary Jane Trebino (McLean) passed away due to complications from Picks Disease on December 31, 2014 at her residence in Largo, Florida. "MJ" was 68 years old.

MJ had a long and successful career in the field of emergency medicine. She earned a Master of Arts degree in Nursing from Simmons College and a Registered Nursing degree from Massasoit Community College. MJ developed the first hospital based paramedic program in the state of Massachusetts at Norwood Hospital and ran that program for years. She also worked as a flight nurse for Boston Medflight and as an emergency room nurse at both Norwood Hospital in MA and St. Joseph's Hospital in Tampa, FL.

MJ is survived by her sons Chuck (46) and John (44). She is also survived by her grandchildren Christian (4) and Gabriel (2) and her sister Barbara (59). Despite all of her professional accomplishments, MJ was most proud of her family and friends. There was no one more loyal, loving and generous than MJ. There will be a memorial service held at Moss Feaster Funeral Home located at 693 South Belcher Road Clearwater, FL on Sunday, January 11 from 2:00 pm to 4:00 pm. There will also be a memorial service held in Massachusetts, but the location, date and time has yet to be determined.

I was so fortunate to have your Mom as my best friend for so many years here in Walpole, Mass. Watching the Patriots tonight reminds me of all our fun Sunday games in Foxboro with Mom making the best Bloody Mary's ever for tailgating. We had so many happy, and sometimes crazy, memories since we met over 40 years ago. We always said when we got old we would buy a farmhouse in Maine and just sit in our rocking chairs on the front porch and rock. Sadly, we never got to do that but we had so many special times I will never forget and I treasure our friendship as well as my special love for Chuck and John. She was a smart, caring, funny, wonderful person and I have missed her greatly. She is at peace now and for that we are grateful. Much love to you, Ann (and Richie) Gallagher

I had so many fond memories of M J in St. Joes ER. She was truly as beautiful on the inside as she was on the outside. She was a true role model and a loyal friend. Rest in peace, my friend, you are finally free of your earthly bonds. Just save me a spot near you because you are definitely someone I want to laugh with again! Your friend Mark Schwab
