DEC 10, 1992 - JUL 12, 2015

“God called your name so softly,
That only you could hear;
And no one heard the footsteps,
Of angels drawing near.
The golden gates stood open,
God saw you needed rest;
His garden must be beautiful,
He only takes the best.”

Richard. I just found out what happened. I don't know why we drifted apart after high school. I guess life just took a hold of us and sent us off in different directions. You were someone who I really got along with, and I felt like we had so many things in common to talk about. I remember being at our friend's NYE party and we both just sat there, awkward and silently taking to each other. That was us. Rest In Peace, brother.

Richard, I miss you and think of you often. I wish you were here, even though I know you're here with us in spirit. We are walking to honor you this weekend in the Out of Darkness Walk for the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention. I'm hopeful you're watching over us. I pray you're looking down on us & that you will be proud of what we are doing to help and support others as well as having the privilege of walking in memory of your kind soul. I'm sorry I wasn't there to help you when you really needed support. I wish I had known you were hurting. I'm sorry and I know that's now enough & it's too late now, but I'm going to try to make it right in some way. I promise to spend more time with family and support everyone, whether I can see there hurt & pain or if I can't. Life is way too short. Family is forever. You'll always be a part of my life even though your physical body is no longer here. I miss you and I love you Richard! Xoxoxo Your big sister

Some days there are not words to share the love and hurt I feel. Some days there is nothing to write that will make the pain less real. So for today I simply write: I miss you more than words can say, I miss you more than poems express, I miss and love you every day. I miss you Richard. You were such a sweet, gentle and kind person. Highly intelligent and wise beyond your years. I'm so proud to call you my brother. I will always feel like there is something missing, a piece of me is missing. I'm not quite sure how to live without you. I pray you're at peace now and deep down in my heart I know you are. I love you my little brother. Amy Mauer Barber

"I miss you and my heart will forever grieve. I look upward for a moment I feel you looking back at me and I smile. Death is but another journey and while you now travel without me, I will always have your love, and my memories to warm and comfort me. I still cry at times, but I know that my tears are more for me than for you. One day we will be together for eternity and until then I send all my love to you and with it a thank you for having made life when you were on earth with me a brighter and happier place for me." The moment that you left me, my heart was split in two. One side was filled with memories; the other side died with you. I often lay awake at night when the world is fast asleep; and take a walk down memory lane with tears upon my cheek. Remembering you is easy, I do it everyday; but missing you is heartache that never goes away. I hold you tightly within my heart and there you will remain; you'll see life has gone on without you but will never be the same. I love you. My twin, my brother, my best friend.

Richard was such a kind and smart individual. Full of love for his sisters, mother, father, and nephews. Shy but funny he was always full of laughter and always giving us something to chuckle about. Being friends with Jeanne and Richard and spending summers at their house will always be a collection of memories I will always cherish. So much so I feel they became a part of my family and I became a part of their's. It is hard to realize a friend, son, and brother is gone. Now that he is gone we must remember he is in a place where no pain and no anguish exist. My deepest regards.

When I think of Richard I think of the little boy in my back yard playing with my two sons, trucks and dirt all over them, my memory reminds me of Sunday school teaching him about Jesus I know for sure where he is today. I believe Richard is truly happy and he took the love of his family with him and he will await for his family reunion at Heavens gate oh what a day that will be when Jesus face I'll see. we love the Mauer family and will lift you all up in prayer. I remember Richard, little vinnie and Nevan hanging out at church. Good kids. The whole family is a strong testament to the grace that God gives us. It seems so easy for us to say stay strong and keep the faith when it is not us going through this tragic loss. But I have witnessed the faith of this family and I know their trust is in God. My prayers are with them and so it's their Savior.

I have never meet a family who is as close and loving as this family. Amy Jeanne and Richard share a love most siblings wish they could have. When I am with them you can just feel the genuine love this family shares. Richard was such a quit humble man who would do whatever he could for his family. He will be greatly missed but I know he will be watching over his family the same way he did during his time here.

Richard, I can't remember everything that we did together but I remember a lot. I remember all the birthday parties you came to and I remember growing up with you and I'm glad that I have those memories. I remember having the biggest crush on you when I was 8 and telling Jeanne and you still played with me. I remember playing cars with you on our bikes and you always picked the jeep. I remember you telling me how you cooked your ramen noodles, while standing there in the kitchen looking at your watch for three minutes until they were done. I don't know why I remember that, maybe I thought it would be important one and now I see that it is. I remember that you were the only one I played video games with and still to this day, I refuse to play with anyone else. I have many more memories but I will not list them off, for I know that we shall make more some day. YOU WILL ALWAYS BE IN MY HEART RICHARD LEE MAUER!!

I am so glad that I got to see Richard recently at Amy's. Richard was such a quiet, kind soul. I loved having him in my classes at Clearwater High. He always was so polite. Richard was super smart and was always a teacher's perfect student. Richard's family was so blessed to have this wonderful brother and son. Not many young men are so close to family as he was. I know his kind and gentle spirit is now in Heaven and all the trials and tribulations that life hands us will now be avoided. Rchard, you will always be in my heart!
