Jean, this soft spoken beautiful woman, who I and my family have known for years, and she was practically a second mother to my son . such a pleasure to have known her and have her as part of our lives . when Terry was young and I told him one day, you must not stay on those people so much thinking he might be a problem and he said "oh everybody does". What a great family to be friends with. What a woman !!!

Shirley Kroegel lit a candle in honor of Ruby "Mama Jean".

The first time I met Jean was at a Tupperware party. Jo and I went and was trying to explain why I needed a gadget to clean the edges of the lids. I was introduced to her as Ruby Jean and that is the way I will always remember her. She welcomed everyone with open arms and was truly a beautiful person.
