Ashley Grace Kearns

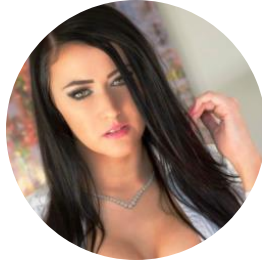

DEC 7, 1988 - AUG 16, 2016

Ashley Grace Kearns was born in Los Angeles, California. In 1999 she moved to the Tampa Bay Area with her mother, sister and grandmother. Ashley missed her California family but made herself at home in Florida. Ashley had a bright smile and kind heart. She never took a bad picture. Ashley modeled, worked in web design and the promotion industry. Ashley loved Jon, her soul mate and Pooh, her tiny Chihuahua. Ashley's life verse was the love chapter 1 Corinthians 4-13. It summed up her short life – Love is patient, love is kind. It does not dishonor others, it is not self seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. Love never fails.

She will be sorely missed by her family and friends. Her mother Jodi Kearns, Brandon, FL. Her father William "Cool Breeze" Ballard, Hollywood, CA. Jon Weld, the man who cherished her, Tampa, FL. Her dear sisters, Chaz Jolly, Los Angeles, CA and Ariel Faith Kearns, Clearwater, FL. Her beloved Grandma, Sharon Kearns, Largo, FL. Grandfather, Joseph Kearns, St. Louis, MO. Her Aunts, Uncles and Cousins. Donnell and Dena Sullivan, Cape Coral, Fl, Safa Jake Sullivan, Ft Myers, FL, Elle Marie Sullivan, Silver Spring, MD. Alan and Sandy Ballard, Brunswick, ME, Casey Ballard, Brunswick, ME, Gina Ballard, Brunswick, ME. "Slim" Jim Ballard, deceased, Jamie Ballard, Los Angeles, CA, Sarah Jane Ballard, Los Angeles, CA. Barry and Jane Samson, Burbank, CA, Chanel Ballard, Burbank, CA, Grace Ballard, Burbank, CA.

Ashley, I miss you; it's hard to imagine you were just 17 when we first met, and that we drifted apart due to that. This is how I'll remember you, always. Whatever happened to those more innocent days, as crazy as we were still? Love you always. PNT.

I travel for business weekly throughout the year. Ashley was one person I had always hoped to meet on board an aircraft or in an airport. She was a very beautiful woman.I had very much respect and admiration for her courage and the personality i was able to know. I always hoped to see the day to tell her that in person. It was very sad to learn of her death. Condolences to her family and may she rest in peace. One day I hope to find her burial spot and leave beautiful flowers as she has left us with beautiful memories.

I was going through some old pictures and found a picture of Ashley and I playing on the swings at Mc Groaty Park in Tujunga,Ca. she was seven years old...it prompted me to google Jodi and then Ashley to see if I could find out what happened to them and Ariel. To my sad surprise I came across this obituary and found that in a sad irony Ashley had not only passed but her services were today.I cannot convey how deeply this affects me in mere words...Jodi & Ariel my deepest condolences to you both, and condolences to all the people who loved Ashley and shared her life and love.Love Susie

You were my rock in high school. You gave me courage that no one else did. I remember spending almost every day outside of school with you. Going to Central Skatepark together, getting into mischief, having each other's backs. You helped me convince my mom to let me buy parachute pants from Hot Topic, and she loved having you around at the house. I know we lost touch for a pretty long time after high school, but that doesn't make this hurt any less and I will always miss you. You are the biggest reason I am who I am today, and I thank you for being in my life. I'm still shocked that you stood up for me back in middle school when that girl threw chocolate milk at me in the cafeteria. Lol. Ugh, I miss you so much and I'm truly sorry you had to go so soon. I love you.

My thoughts go out to the family and friends of Ashley. She was a phenomenal woman with such a big heart. I met fluffy MySpace days. And I'm so thankful I did. I got the opportunity to know this woman who taught me if you dream it and you strive you can do it. Never give up and never think u can't. Hugs fluff till we meet on the other side. Ty to her family for raising such a great kind hearted woman she was rare.
