Dear Yvette & Family, My heartfelt sympathy to all of you. Josie was a beautiful soul. Not only did she endure a lot more than any of us can imagine, but she also inspired so many with her positive attitude and deep faith. Josie was a woman I liked from the minute I met her. I loved her honesty and respected and envied her steadfast genuine love for God. Josie, I'm going to miss you, but I know you are now at home in Heaven, with no more pain or suffering. God bless you and keep you. Love, Carol

Though your kids & family are very saddened and momma is beside herself with grief having to bury another one of her children I know you are in a indescribable place where there's no more pain, sadness, tears or physical ailments and you are at peace. I pray for your kids and our family family that we all find peace in knowing you're in a much better place even though you are greatly missed already. Rest in Heaven Sis and though you're gone you'll never be forgotten 🥹👤❤️

I pray that the entire family finds relief of there pain. The loss of titi Josie is terribly sad, and we have to find relief knowing she had faith, her love for the Lord was evident in her walk of faith, and she is in heaven watching over everyone now. We will see her again! Prayers again, and love always.

Efrain, I am sorry for your loss. Mom is running in Heaven now. In her world, no time will have passed between now and the time you are reunited. The loss is only yours. Hers is gain. The longing to be reunited is only yours. Hers, no time will have passed. It will be as you were never apart.

Josie loved candles! She shared her faith with us. I think that helps a little during this time. Her strength and hope was passed to her kids. She was a very strong woman. In many ways! I am grateful for her and the times we spent. She was there for me during all kinds of ups and downs. She was the only one who stayed with me while her 1st grandson was in the hospital sick. She brought me magazines and watched TV and cried with me. She had the nurses bring in an extra bed (it was like she knew exactly what to do). She will forever be remembered and loved.
