Alex, You left us way too early. I cannot even begin to explain the loss I have and will have for the rest of my life. I will forever thank you for the memories and the laughs we shared. It all still feels surreal. I sometimes get lost in my own thoughts thinking, daydreaming that it is all just a dream. Alas, your children are your resurrection and through them and the ones that love you, you will never be gone. Thanks for the long conversations and thanks for the advice on some issues. You always kept it real and you were never shy about saying what you felt. You were always and will forever be my friend, my brother my confidant. I am now and forever, your unofficial brother-in-law. Go in peace bro, I love you more than you will ever know...

I'll never forget you my friend. There's too many memories together for me to choose just one but I will always remember you checking out your muscles on any reflection you could find and I just imagine you doing the same now but also admiring your wings as you look down on us. Rest in peace my friend.
