Greg and I send our deepest sympathies to you, and the entire family. Although we never met Rodger, we can tell from his tribute that we would have really hit it off! Treasure your memories, and know that he is at peace. With love, Greg and Pat

Sunday afternoons Rog and Pete would set up the screened tent. Pete would drag a spare TV out of the house then drag a coax cable from the basement. We had a table, beer, junk food, and other cerebral delights. From 1 PM to 7 PM we would sit out in the screen porch and watch football. It only got better when the Dolphins played the Jets. We would tell each other how screwed up the other guys team was. That was a great year of football and time with Roger. A forever memory. Gonna miss you ole buddy. Go Dolphins! (Jets suck anyway)
