Some of my earliest memories include Carl. I first met him when I was a young girl living with my family in the ground floor apartment of our Grandma Baggott's house at 145 Webster Avenue, Jersey City, NJ. He would come to see and spend time with my sister Linda often. Carl told me that he felt like the luckiest man alive when Linda agreed to go to the prom with him, because Linda was so beautiful! The last time he visited us, he asked if I remembered him telling me that and said that his luck had really continued since they had shared a long and happy life together and were married over 50 years with a son, daughter and grandchildren that he was so proud of. Joyce Ketterer Bargowski My brother-in-law Carl always seemed to be ready for any new adventure when he came to visit. One of my fondest memories of Carl occurred a couple days after my daughter (his god-daughter) Cindy's wedding. Carl and Linda were staying with Joyce and I and we all decided that it was such a beautiful autumn day that we should take a trip to Hawk Mountain. We first visited the museum, where Carl enthusiastically shared much of his own knowledge of birds of prey with us and a few other folks as well. Then we proceeded to hike up the mountain in the cool crisp air with Carl pointing out (often) that this was a heck of a lot higher than any place in the entire state of Florida as we climbed further and further up the winding and rocky mountain trail. But all worth it when we arrived at a beautiful vista of the surrounding countryside covered in shades of crimson and gold and brown where we took time out to sit on a boulder and enjoy the view, the migrating hawks, and some treats we'd packed to snack on when we (finally) reached the mountaintop. For me what first comes to mind when I think of my Father-in-law is his very warm smile that could light up his eyes and always made me think of a kitten that had gotten into the cream as well as his warm hugs. Both will be missed but we know you are in a better place where there is no more suffering or confusion. With Love always.

It is with deep regret that I hear of Carl's passing. He was my friend since childhood as our parents socialized together at many family functions. Carl and I also played together in a band along with a friend of his who served as a drummer. Carl played the accordion and I the piano. Many fine hours playing together. May God bless and keep his family. Ronald Magnuson, Richmond , Virginia

I am so sorry Linda, and family, to read this news. You are in my prayers. I miss seeing you and wish I could give you a hug . Much love to you

My sympathies to you all at this time. I had just found out about Carl's passing, from a mutual friend, and was so sorry to hear this. We worked together at Vernitron/Sensor Systems many years ago, when he took over as QC Manager for my Dad, Ernie, who was retiring (and, sadly, my Dad passed away last year as well in July). I'm sure Carl is at peace, and smiling down on you all, and probably catching up on things with my Dad. God bless you all at this time. Gail Ihrig

I am grateful to have known Carl, who was a very funny man, as well as super smart. I loved listening to his stories. My love for this family has only gotten stronger over the years. Linda, Donna, and Eric all hold a very special place in my heart as well. Growing up being able to go to Florida to visit The Johnson family was one of the highlights of my childhood in Tennessee. Holding the family in my heart today and forever. I love you all. ~Kerri Lynn

I have two very precious memories among others. The first is the joy my teenage son had the night he went dancing at the Largo Cultural Center only to find Linda and Carl there dancing the night away. What joy it was for him to dance with people from church who he looked up to. The second is that Carl would always greet me in German. The only other person who spoke to me in German was my mom who died when I was 20 and she did it because her dad did it. She only said good morning and bless you but it was special. On Sunday's Carl would always say good morning in German and that precious greeting on a Sunday morning always connected me to my communion of saints in a very tangible way. When we return to the church I will miss that greeting, yet I trust that he has joined the saints and remains with us at the table of mercy. Peace be with you all!

He had an infectious laugh.. Which he loved to share with anyone around him. One of the smartest men I know, his taste in gin was dubious at best though. I loved going to the Johnson's house to talk to him for hours on any subject I could think of. I remember I found a Jeep I wanted to buy at a local dealer and was really excited about working to get enough money for down payment. I mean excited!!!! CJ7 this and that was all I spoke about. I told Carl about it and said " Carl, it has a lift kit and the word AWESOME across the front window"..(it was the 80's) he looked at Eric and me and said " Awesome you kids don't know what awesome is. I helped put a man on the moon. That was Carl...I loved him and he will be missed.

Carl always sat near the choir in which Linda participated. We'd share a few words and he would say how proud he was of his actor grandson and all the grandchildren. Linda, you and your family are in my prayers. God bless. Dennis Buthmann, SPL

Carl and I clicked immediately when we first met. He told me many stories regarding his scientific career and work on many federal projects. He was always so genuine and had great passion for our country and freedoms as Americans. Carl loved his neighbors and reflected the highest standards of what it means to be a Lutheran Christian. Loretta feels the same way, because Carl reached out to her all the time and established their own special relationship. We will miss him, but we celebrate his life and rejoice knowing he is with God. May God comfort Linda and the Johnson family during their grief and celebration of Carl's long and blessed life.
