There is not a day that goes by with my not having an amazing memory of you. Whether it is your coming home from school telling me all about your day, snuggling up to watch a movie, singing with me or making some kind of goofy face to make me smile. Not a day goes by that I don't think about you and wish I could hold you one more time, just to hear you say Momma one more time. My heart hurts for you and I yearn for the day I can see you again. ❤️ Momma

My memories of Angelina include getting ice cream and laughing at who had the messiest ice cream face when the melting started; her or her brother. Just chillin' and hanging out when I came to visit was always fun. And my favorite memory is walking back to the car from a walk on the beach, and her showing me the art of the cartwheel, several times. You are loved and will be dearly missed- Love LaMar
