Robert L. Lamb

MAR 25, 1985 - AUG 9, 2021

Robert L. Lamb passed away suddenly on August 9, 2021. He is survived by his wife Valerie and their 2 children as well as many family and friends. Valerie would love Rob and the world to know how her and their family loved him.

Rob,

You will never be prepared or ready for a moment so heartbreaking as losing the love of your life. Your heart will cry inside but nothing will come out. You will be numb and find that a moment as impossible as this could not be real. My love, my best friend, my man that gets me in a way no one ever will, my heart, amazing father of our kids, keeper of the house, adventurer, obscure, but cool, smart, handsome husband passed away. I go through so many moments in my mind wishing to live them all again. Like us drinking coffee together on the patio laughing at the kids...I think about our kids and the love they have for him and it makes me hurt a pain I can't even describe. Tears well up as it starts to surface. My life feels frozen. It feels like I can't move from this devastation. And I know there may come a time when I will feel less of this...but right now I just want to hold my babies, close my eyes and wake up to a new day where your passing never happened. There will never ever be another Rob. He was like no other. The most unique, kind-hearted, smart, honest, genuine, no BS, caring, funny, loving man. He brought to my life the deepest love. And I know he brought so much to so many people's lives. He was so special in that way. His connections were always genuine. He's someone you never forget. I just want to hug him and hold him and give him a kiss from here to eternity. I keep telling myself this isn't real, that this can't be real...my heart is smashed and I don't know where to go from here. I don't. When I sit here and think about all the people who loved him, my heart breaks in so many ways all over again; for my children for losing their father, for my mother-in-law for losing her son, for his sisters for losing their brother, Peter for losing his step son, my parents losing their son-in-law, my siblings losing their brother-in-law, our nieces and nephews losing their Uncle, cousins, aunts and uncles, Gram and Gene, best friends, great friends, lifelong friends and absolutely for myself for losing my husband who was more than just a husband to me...and for Rob...the weight I feel is unbearable...it crumbles me. I know our kids and my amazing family and friends will help to get us through, our love story just wasn't over yet. You are in our hearts every day forever and always "Hun". We love you beyond the moon, beyond the stars, beyond the galaxies... 143

To date, it's hard to comprehend the loss of a friend, colleague, and just a wonderful human being; it seems like a preposterous mistake! Robert has taught me a lot throughout my consulting career and was always supportive in most difficult moments. In my heart, Robert will always remain a young, strong, and full-of-life friend. I wanted to find words to ease your pain somehow, but it's hard to imagine if such terms exist. Please accept my sincere condolences for your loss, Val and Jolene.

You will be greatly missed Rob, I don't know what to say really other than this one really hurts. You are one of the most stand-up and caring people I have ever met in my life. Even though its been 20 years it seems like just yesterday we were cruising in your cavalier and hanging out at the pool hall with Val, Nick, and Bartz. Some of my fondest memories with you in high school. Rest easy man, we'll all catch up here soon. You just got a head start.

I met Robert through the FTI Consulting network. I only had the chance to briefly work with him, but we quickly connected for our love of cars. In fact, we discovered that we detailed our cars in the same parking garage! Robert was then gracious enough to ship his left over car wash coins from Florida to DC. I still carry the coin pouch in my car. I am sorry for loss. God bless.

I met Robert when I hired him at FTI Consulting 13 years ago. When one of our projects got in trouble I asked him to assist and, after watching him address the issues in a competent and professional manner, I said "I want him". I worked with him at FTI and Robert followed me to BRG in 2012 and I got to know him well as well as his family. We became good friends, did dozens of training seminars together around the country and he developed into one of the finest construction schedulers in the country. But more important than being a consummate professional, Robert was a true and genuine human being, a real true friend, a loving husband and terrific father to his two young children. Of all the souls I have encountered during my life, he stands out as the best of the best. I along with many will miss him dearly.
