"Nanny" as we knew her was the grandmother of our daughter's best friend, Emily. Whenever our paths crossed as the girls grew up, I always remember the kind things she would say about our daughter, Tessa. She was tiny but had a very big personality. Our thoughts go out to Emily, her mother Liz and all the family as they adjust to life without Nanny.

Dear Lani will be missed. I had two little dogs when I moved here and she would always want to see them. I live on the third floor and I would leave my livingroom blinds up partially so they could see outside and get a little sun. Lani walked daily and would always look in to see if she could see them. At first it frightened me to death because I could only see a very small portion of a person but after I got my senses back from my fright I realised it was just Dear Little Lani. Then when I lost my job and I would see Lani out for her daily walk we would talk a little and I would mention I was without a job, she was so kind and would pray for me to get a job. This happened twice and twice I got a job. Thank you Lani for all your prayers. I will miss Lani, May she rest in peace. As the Irish blessing states: May God hold her in the palm of His hand. In Loving Memory, Angie
